Focus	The overall focus is ensuring that children settle well into the school routine so that they can begin to build up that resilience and determination to have a successful start to school. We use this term to embed the PSE foundations needed to be confident learners, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • How to listen • How to understand what our rules are • How to manage our routines, such as completing self-registration and lining up for lunch time successfully We support the children to begin to develop and build their relationships as a strong foundation for their nursery and reception year. We encourage the children to think about their own families so that they can see themselves as valuable individuals within their own context.	The overall focus is on ensuring that the children continue to build their resilience and determination so that they can seek, accept and achieve greater challenges whilst acknowledging that different approaches may be more effective. We continue to embed the PSE foundations needed to build strong constructive and respectful relationships. The focus moves to supporting them to be able to use this to identify and begin to moderate their own feelings in their relationships. The aim is to continue to widen their vocabulary so that they can use this to explain more deeply their ideas and thinking. We aim to give them more fluency and control in their movements to build the core strength needed for their future learning.	In nursery the overall focus is on them being able to begin the journey to becoming independent in managing their own needs in preparation for their next stage of learning. In Reception the overall focus is on ensuring that the children become 'year 1 ready' through being able to manage their own needs throughout the school day in different ways. We build on their PSE skills by encouraging the children to strongly consider the perspectives of others in preparation for their next stage of learning. The aim is to encourage children to use their new vocabulary in a wider range of contexts to embed their vocabulary further. We aim to ensure children leave EYFS with the foundations of an efficient handwriting style and a deep sense of number in preparation for their next stage of learning.
Importantly our focuses allow for curiosity, and exploration through hands-on experiences so that our children are excited to learn! Throughout our EYFS we have a reading spine for both nursery and reception as well as a set of Super 7 texts.

Characteristics of Learning
Playing and exploring - children investigate and experience things, and ‘have a go;’ Children who actively participate in their own play develop a larger store of information and experiences to draw on which positively supports their learning.
Active learning - children concentrate and keep on trying if they encounter difficulties and enjoy achievements. They are proud of their own achievements. For children to develop into self-regulating, lifelong learners they need to take ownership, accept challenges and learn persistence.
Creating and thinking critically - children have and develop their own ideas, make links between ideas. They think flexibly and rationally, drawing on previous experiences which help them to and develop strategies to solve problems.
Characteristics of effective Learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Showing curiosity about objects, events and people • Showing particular interests • Representing their experiences in play • Showing satisfaction in meeting their own goals • Using senses to explore the world around them. • Persisting with activity when challenges occur 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Engaging in open-ended activity • Checking how well their activities are going. • Changing strategy as needed • Seeking challenge • Showing a belief that more effort or a different approach will pay off 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Taking a risk, engaging in new experiences, and learning by trial and error • Not easily distracted and paying attention to details • Making predictions • Testing ideas • Developing ideas of grouping, sequences, cause and effect
Principles of EYFS	Unique Child- Every child is unique and has the potential to be resilient, capable, confident and self-assured. Positive Relationships- Children flourish with warm, strong and positive partnerships between all staff and parents/carers. This promotes independence across the EYFS curriculum. Enabling environments- Children learn and develop well in safe and secure environments where routines are established and where adults respond to their individual needs and passions and help them to build upon their learning over time. Learning and Development- Children develop and learn at different rates. We must be aware of children who need greater support than others.

Prime Areas of Learning N.B. Outcomes informed by Development Matters and Birth to 5
Communication & Language The development of children’s spoken language underpins all seven areas of learning and development. Children’s back-and-forth interactions from an early age form the foundations for language and cognitive development. The number and quality of the conversations they have with adults and peers throughout the day in a language-rich environment is crucial. By commenting on what children are interested in or doing and echoing back what they say with new vocabulary added, practitioners will build children’s language effectively. Reading frequently to children, and engaging them actively in stories, non-fiction, rhymes and poems, and then providing them with extensive opportunities to use and embed new words in a range of contexts, will give children the opportunity to thrive. Through conversation, storytelling and role play, where children share their ideas with support and modelling from their teacher, and sensitive questioning that invites them to elaborate, children become comfortable using a rich range of vocabulary and language structures.

Personal, Social and Emotional Development

Children's personal, social and emotional development (PSED) is crucial for children to lead healthy and happy lives and is fundamental to their cognitive development. Underpinning their personal development are the important attachments that shape their social world. Strong, warm and supportive relationships with adults enable children to learn how to understand their own feelings and those of others. Children should be supported to manage emotions, develop a positive sense of self, set themselves simple goals, have confidence in their own abilities, to persist and wait for what they want and direct attention, as necessary. Through adult modelling and guidance, they will learn how to look after their bodies, including healthy eating, and manage personal needs independently. Through supported interaction with other children, they learn how to make good friendships, co-operate and resolve conflicts peaceably. These attributes will provide a secure platform from which children can achieve at school and in later life.

Physical development

Physical activity is vital in children's all-round development, enabling them to pursue happy, healthy, and active lives. Gross and fine motor experiences develop incrementally throughout early childhood, starting with sensory explorations and the development of a child's strength, co-ordination, and positional awareness through tummy time, crawling and play movement with both objects and adults. By creating games and providing opportunities for play both indoors and outdoors, adults can support children to develop their core strength, stability, balance, spatial awareness, co-ordination, and agility. Gross motor skills provide the foundation for developing healthy bodies and social and emotional well-being. Fine motor control and precision helps with hand-eye co-ordination, which is later linked to early literacy. Repeated and varied opportunities to explore and play with small world activities, puzzles, arts and crafts and the practice of using small tools, with feedback and support from adults, allow children to develop proficiency, control, and confidence.

Specific Areas of Learning
N.B. Outcomes informed by Development Matters and Birth to 5

Literacy

It is crucial for children to develop a life-long love of reading. Reading consists of two dimensions: language comprehension and word reading. Language comprehension (necessary for both reading and writing) starts from birth. It only develops when adults talk with children about the world around them and the books (stories and non-fiction) they read with them, and enjoy rhymes, poems, and songs together. Skilled word reading, taught later, involves both the speedy working out of the pronunciation of unfamiliar printed words (decoding) and the speedy recognition of familiar printed words. Writing involves transcription (spelling and handwriting) and composition (articulating ideas and structuring them in speech, before writing).

Mathematics

Developing a strong grounding in number is essential so that all children develop the necessary building blocks to excel mathematically. Children should be able to count confidently, develop a deep understanding of the numbers to 10, the relationships between them and the patterns within those numbers. By providing frequent and varied opportunities to build and apply this understanding - such as using manipulatives, including small pebbles and tens frames for organising counting - children will develop a secure base of knowledge and vocabulary from which mastery of mathematics is built. In addition, it is important that the curriculum includes rich opportunities for children to develop their spatial reasoning skills across all areas of mathematics including shape, space and measures. It is important that children develop positive attitudes and interests in mathematics, look for patterns and relationships, spot connections, 'have a go,' talk to adults and peers about what they notice and not be afraid to make mistakes.

Understanding the World

Understanding the world involves guiding children to make sense of their physical world and their community. The frequency and range of children's personal experiences increases their knowledge and sense of the world around them – from visiting parks, libraries and museums to meeting important members of society such as police officers, nurses and firefighters. In addition, listening to a broad selection of stories, non-fiction, rhymes and poems will foster their understanding of our culturally, socially, technologically and ecologically diverse world. As well as building important knowledge, this extends their familiarity with words that support understanding across domains. Enriching and widening children's vocabulary will support later reading comprehension.
